3

STAY IN THE BLUE ZONE

- Upon arrival at the hotel, travellers must stay in their room until they are notified of their RT-PCR test results (within 24hrs).
- Once notification is received, travellers can move around the Blue Zone destination as they wish.
- On days 6 or 7, travellers must self-test with pre-purchased ATK. Results must be shown to hotel staff, as well as recorded on the MorChana App.
 - ✓ If they test negative, they can continue with their holiday in the destination.
 - ✓ If they test positive, they will be taken to a hospital and must isolate.
- Travellers planning to travel outside their chosen Blue Zone destination must obtain a 'Transfer/Release Form' issued by their original hotel indicating they have completed the required 7-night stay and showing negative results of their two COVID-19 tests.

Travellers who arrive by air or sea and have not been vaccinated, are without a vaccine certificate, or only partially vaccinated will be required to enter a 10-day quarantine and undergo two RT-PCR tests – first upon arrival on day 0-1, and the second on day 8-9 as part of the Alternative Quarantine (AQ) programme.

DEPARTURE FROM THE BLUE ZONE

- After completing a 7-night stay and testing negative in their Antigen Test (conducted on day 6 or 7), travellers will receive a 'Transfer/Release Form' from the hotel and will be able to travel to other destinations in Thailand. Restrictions to some areas may still apply.
- If staying less than 7 nights, travellers are not allowed to travel outside the chosen Blue Zone.
- When travelling to other countries, travellers are advised to follow the guidelines and measures applicable to those respective countries.
